

Meghan Brueggemann

I am a 2008 graduate of Southeast Missouri State University in Cape Girardeau, MO, where I received my bachelor's degree in Music Education. Currently I teach orchestra to grades 5-12 in the Washington School District in Washington, MO.

I also am the tenor in the Sweet Adeline's quartet, Shades of Jade. I am relatively new to the style of barbershop, having my first experience in the style with St. Louis Harmony Chorus in January of 2009. Since my first contest with St. Louis Harmony Chorus in March of 2009, I have wanted to sing in a quartet. Of which I am getting to fulfill this dream with the lovely ladies of Shades of Jade.

I have been playing violin for 19 years and has performed with such groups as the Trans-Siberian Orchestra, Paducah Symphony Orchestra, and Southeast Symphony Orchestra, where I have served as concertmaster, co-concertmaster, and principal second violins. Also I am an active chamber musician, performing in recitals and at special events.

I also am an alumna of Sigma Alpha Iota International Music Fraternity for Women-Delta Epsilon Chapter, as well as a member of Music Educators National Conference (MENC) and Missouri State Teachers Association (MSTA). I am currently studying with Dr. Brandon Christensen, violin and viola professor at Southeast Missouri State, and continues to perform with the Southeast Symphony Orchestra. I maintains a private violin and viola studio from my home in Washington, MO.

I recently married Daniel Brueggemann, a friend from high school. We were married at our home church, Lutheran Church of the Atonement, in our hometown of Florissant, MO.
